Dhanwantari is a form of Vishnu. He is depicted with four hands, holding medical herbs in one hand and a pot containing rejuvenating nectar called Amrit in another hand. His birthday is celebrated two days prior to Diwali. In Hindu mythology according to Vishnu Purana, the Sage Durvasa had a special garland. Durvasa wore it on his forehead and wandering around. He across lord Indra and offered him the special garland. Indra hanged the garland over his elephant Airavata's brow. Airavata took the garland and dropped it down on land. Watching this gesture of Indra, Durvasa got angry and cursed Indra that he would lose all his powers and position. Indra begged for forgiveness but Durvasa refused and went away. Indra and Devas lost their strength. Seizing the opportunity, the Danavas (enemies of Devas) led by king Bali engaged in war with Devas. Devas were defeated and lost control of the universe. Lord Indra and other gods fled and took refuge with Brahma. The Brahma advised them to seek refuge with Vishnu. Lord Vishnu advised Devas to make a peace with Danavas and jointly churn the sea of milk for the nectar of immortality (Amrit). Danvas agreed to churn the ocean for Amrit, so that they can also become immortal. The churning of the ocean of milk was initiated with mount Meru as the churning rod and the king of serpents (Vasuki) as the churning rope. As advised by Lord Krishna, Devas were at the tail and Danavas were at the head end of Vasuki. The process of churning was started. Once the mountain was placed on the ocean, it began to sink. Lord Vishnu took his second incarnation, the Kurma avatar to support the mountain on His back. The churning process continued. Halahal was released and it was consumed by Lord Shiva to protect the universe. And Goddess Parvati pressed her hand on Shiva's throat to keep the halahal in the neck. As the process of churning continued, several things came out of the ocean of milk. Lord Dhanwantari appeared with pot containing the Amrit. Then Goddess Laxmi was born. The Danavas snatched the pot of Amrit and ran away. Then Lord Vishnu took the form of Mohini to distract the Danavas. Mohini got hold of the pot of Amrit and distributed it to the Devas. The rejuvenated Devas defeated asuras and regained the control on the universe. The lord of medicine, Dhanwanthari protected Devas and universes.

What is the significance of Time (Yugas)? Part 1

Sadhguru looks at the nature of time and explains how the sages of India had a phenomenal understanding of this most fundamental aspect of creation.

Sadhguru: From the infiniteness of pre-creation arose three possibilities of creation. Through the limitless space, it chose to find expression in the form of time, energy, and gravity. These three fundamentals trapped this timeless, limitless space into a time-bound, limited creation. Of these three, time – the relentless time – elates and bludgeons, nurtures and gnashes, rises and falls. Time gives respite to no one. A worm or a bird, the hunted or the hunter, the ruled or the ruler, the slave or the emperor, beautiful bodies and wondrous palaces, prime of fame and angst of shame – everything goes back to nothingness, to dust and ashes.

Kala, time, is one factor that is relentlessly on. Either you ride this time and live a beautiful life, or you get bludgeoned by this relentless wheel of time. Either one is destroyed by the process of time, or one is delivered by the process of time. Either one is entrapped by the process of time, or one uses time to transcend and liberate oneself. Time is the most significant dimension of creation – not just a human concept, as most people believe. If there was no time, there would be no beginning and no end. If there was no beginning and no end, there would be no creation.

It is in time that we exist. It is in time that we were born. It is in time that we will die. If one understands the significance of time, the laws of time, the dharma of time and is in tune with the dharma of time, one is not just a jaya – one is a vijaya. One makes it here and one makes it elsewhere. Conversely, one who is not in tune with the dharma of time will get crushed and crumbled by the process of life. Life is just a play of time. Understanding this, the ancient sages, seers, and yogis of this region looked at time with enormous attention. Our idea of time is essentially based on the way we are connected with the immediate creation around us – the planet and the solar system.
